is a 1962 Bollywood film produced by S. S. Vasan, directed by Pannalal Patel, starring Sunil Dutt, Vyjayanthimala & Pran in lead roles with Dharmendra, Meena Kumari, Mumtaz Begum & Sadhana in supporting roles. The music is composed by Shankar Jaikishan and the lyrics are penned by Shakeel Badayuni. Sunil Dutt has a double role in the film. He plays a lead dancer named Anand and a traditional educated prince named Shiv Kumar. Vyjayanthimala is the love interest of both characters played by Dutt. Pran is his corrupt brother who wants to take over the kingdom from his brother Shiv Kumar, whereas Meena Kumari is his loyal servant. The film becomes a turning point in Vyjayanthimala's career when she doesn't get many opportunities after this film due to her bad health. The music was composed by Shankar-Jaikishan and lyrics were penned by Shakeel Badayuni. All the tunes were composed by Shankar-Jaikishan apart from four songs which were written by Sahir Ludhianvi.
